

Accountability Document

Background:

This document outlines the various roles and responsibilities of those involved in the administration of the Cost Centre Owner/Principal Investigator's research funds to ensure the efficient operation of cost centres (both internal and external grants).

Purpose of the Accountability Document:

Research Accounting requires the Cost Centre Owner/Principal Investigator to sign and return a copy of this document which provides signing authority for expenditures against the research Cost Centre.

If the Cost Centre Owner/Principal Investigator would like to delegate signing authority to other individuals, the delegate must also sign the document. Refer to the last page.

Note: Delegates will have access to eReports to view research expenditures.

Cost Centre Owner/Principal Investigator Responsibilities:

1. A Researcher with signing authority on a Research Project assumes both rights and responsibilities, as outlined in this document.
2. Researchers are responsible for the overall financial management of their Research Projects, consistent with the terms and conditions of the grants.
3. Researchers initiate and approve all transactions related to their research projects (i.e. purchases, remuneration for staff, approval of invoices, approval of journal entries, and approval of all reimbursement of expense claims to individuals).
4. In cases where Researchers may draw remuneration in conformance with the terms and conditions of the grant or contract, approval must be obtained by a Dean or Office of the Vice President, Research and Innovation.
5. Researchers must ensure that all expenditures comply with University policies and procedures (including ethics, procurement policies and procedures, reimbursement of expenses, and human resources policies and procedures) as well as funding agency requirements, policies and procedures, ensuring all expenditures are in accordance with funding agency requirements.

University policies and procedures can be found on the Secretariat website.

The following policies and procedures are particularly relevant in managing research grants:

- Claim for reimbursement policy
- Claim for reimbursement procedure
- Hospitality Procedure for eligible hospitality expenditures
- Professional expense reimbursement guidelines
- Procurement Services policy
- Procurement Services procedure

6. Tri Council Granting Agencies (CIHR, NSERC and SSHRC) require that signing authorities on grants may only be delegated to staff that has a good understanding of the research being conducted. For this reason, Administrative/Secretarial staff should not normally be delegated signing authority on research grants.
7. Researchers must inform their authorized signing delegate(s) of applicable university and funding agency policies and procedures and the associated responsibility for compliance.
8. Tri Council Granting Agencies (CIHR, NSERC and SSHRC) have compiled a Financial Administration Guide to assist Researchers and their research assistants.
9. Researchers must monitor on a regular basis all expenses/transactions charged to their research grants and ensure that expenses and transactions are properly authorized by the Researcher or his delegated signing authority. This information is available through eReports, the University's financial information system. Training on how to use eReports is available by contacting Research Accounting. Researchers have a responsibility to communicate discrepancies or errors to Research Accounting, Payroll, or General Accounting.

Researchers have a responsibility to ensure that sufficient funds are available to fund all expenditures (supplier invoices, payroll charges, claims for reimbursement of expenses, and all other expenses associated with the Project).
10. Researchers must ensure that written authorization is documented for all expenditures charged to the research grant including internal operations such as stores, UIT, photocopying, bookstore, telephone. Records must be accessible upon request.
11. If using a purchasing card (PCard) Researchers must ensure expenditures are eligible and that the required supporting documentation is retained for audit purposes.
12. Researchers are accountable and responsible for all deficits resulting from over expenditures, expenses deemed ineligible by the research sponsor and for failure of the Researcher to comply with the rules and regulations of the funding agency and/or York policies. A deficit is defined as a situation when actual expenditures plus future commitments (purchase orders outstanding plus advances outstanding plus salary/wages to be paid to employees) are in excess of approved funding from research grants and contracts. Researchers are responsible for ensuring that the Research Project is undertaken consistent with the contractual terms of the grant or contract.
13. Researchers are responsible for adhering to York's conflict of interest policy and to report potential conflicts of interest to the Dean and to the Director of Procurement Services for review and approval:
 - Conflicts of Interest for Faculty and Librarians \(Policy and Guidelines\)
 - Conflict of Interest for Employees \(Policy and Guidelines\)
 - Declaring a Conflict of Interest in the Procurement of Goods and Services
14. Researchers must sign financial reports as is normally required by the funding agencies.
15. Researchers must submit all technical, and /or progress reports by the prescribed deadlines as is normally required by the funding agency.
16. Researchers must comply with all applicable policies and procedures of York payroll and are responsible for following York hiring practices and complying with the Employment Standards Act. Tri Agency Extensions

SSHRC AND NSERC

Requests to extend grants beyond the official end date must be directed to Research Accounting.
