Mapping Wampum: Storytelling & Sovereignty in Indigenous Poetry

DR. KENZIE ALLEN

Assistant Professor
English, York University

How might one tell a story, or map a story, in a way that enacts personal and cultural sovereignty? This poetry reading and craft talk will share research, stories, and methods, from Wampum, an ethnographic manuscript-in-progress of poems about an Indigenous Oneida of Wisconsin family and their intergenerational journeys across borders and continents.
