'Rethinking Good Intentions', with Nancy Edwards

Date: Tuesday, October 8, 2024

Time: 1-3pm EST

Location: Sandra Faire and Ivan Fecan Theatre, York University.

Get your complimentary Oct. 8th tickets here!

In this solo story-telling play, Nancy Edwards – a Canadian community health nurse – takes us to the rural villages of Sierra Leone in the late '70s and early '80s. Her heart-felt stories of village life convey the ravages of tuberculosis; threats of witchcraft; and tragedies of deaths related to pregnancy, childbirth, and newborn tetanus. She celebrates mothers and local advocates for health improvements. While acknowledging her role as a cultural outsider, Nancy takes us behind-the-scenes and shares how her West African experiences shaped her life and research career.

Rethinking Good Intentions
NANCY EDWARDS
Tuesday, October 8, 2024
1 p.m. ET

A Canadian community health nurse recounts her experiences living in the rural villages of Sierra Leone that rattled her cultural preconceptions, provoked her notions of social privilege, and forever deepened her global connections.
A panel discussion will follow the performance.

Beyond the Interface: Critical Perspectives of Sex Work and Sextech

October 17-19

Presented by the Critical Trafficking and Sex Work Studies Research Cluster

Sponsored by the Nathanson Centre, YCAR, Robarts, the CFR, the Department of Sociology, the RCPS, and Sexuality & Women's Studies at York University

The Critical Trafficking and Sex Work Studies Research Cluster at the Centre for Feminist Research is excited to announce that registration is now open for our upcoming virtual conference, "Beyond the Interface: Critical Perspectives of Sex Work and SexTech," from October 17-19, 2024. This conference will explore the critical intersections of sex work and digital technologies, focusing on the societal implications of AI, VR, and other digital innovations within global sexual economies.

The event will feature keynote speakers, moderated panels, film screenings, and research presentations from researchers, community organizers, and the sex work community, providing a platform for meaningful discussions and insights on the key conference themes:

- Legal and Ethical Perspectives of SexTech and Sex Work
- Representation and Inclusivity in Erotic Virtual Spaces
- Neoliberal Globalization and Colonialism in Digital Realms
- Wellness and Safety in Online Environments
- Technological Innovation and Social Change

We are thrilled to announce our Keynote Speaker, Gabriella Garcia, a creative researcher with over a decade of experience of sharing stories about networked subcultures and technologically-enabled intimacy. She is currently developing a practice that uses speculative fiction and magical realism to gather sex workers together to design futures toward potential real-world solutions. For more information, her website is <https://decodingsigma.tech/>.

We're also excited to announce our upcoming conference, occurring from October 17-19, 2024, with 11 panel presentations, and daily sessions starting from 10:00 AM (Eastern Standard Time/EST). Please note that attendance is flexible—you are not required to attend all sessions and are welcome to join as many or as few panels as you prefer.

Originally planned to be free of charge, we've had to introduce a small fee due to unexpected funding cuts. We understand that this may be disappointing news, but we hope you'll still join us for what promises to be a valuable and informative event. General admission is $20, the student rate is $5, and attendance is free for sex workers.

To register for the conference or view the conference schedule please click: Eventbrite Link for Beyond the Interface Conference Registration

We have received over forty contributions from scholars, activists, sex workers, community-based researchers, and technology companies worldwide, making this conference a truly global platform for discussion and collaboration.

This conference promises to be a dynamic and inclusive space for exchanging ideas and fostering new collaborations. We encourage you to register and share this announcement widely within your networks. If you have any accessibility needs or questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Thank you for your continued support!

Sincerely and on behalf of the Critical Trafficking and Sex Work Studies Research Cluster,
The "Beyond the Interface" Conference Organizing Team.

Sponsored by the Jack & Mae Nathanson Centre; York Centre for Asian Research; Robarts Centre for Canadian Studies; Centre for Feminist Research; The Harriet Tubman Institute; the Department of Sociology; the Resource Centre for Public Sociology; and the School of Gender, Sexuality & Women's Studies at York University.

Viviana Patroni, Professor Emerita, Department of Social Science, York University – Workers, worker organizing and the far right in Argentina

Date: October 24, 2024

Location: Ross Building, Room S701 (Social Science)

Time: 2:30 pm to 4:30 pm

Description: The panel explores recent developments in the everyday realities of workers and the conditions under which they organize, stemming from the economic and political changes that have occurred in Latin America over the last two decades. While a diversity of work experiences and of economic and political trends characterizes the region, high levels of inequality and growing precariousness are common among Latin American workers. The neoliberal economic and political transformation of the 1980s and 1990s is central in making sense of these features. Yet, the particular political trajectories and economic performance of the last two decades, including the rise of progressive movements and governments and also the radicalization of right wing forces, have created both new openings but also closed some avenues for workers' collective action. The presenters address various facets of these conflicting processes to bring attention to the conditions under which workers must confront the realities of their own survival and the options for collective strategies.

Centre for Feminist Research: Call for Nominations - 2023-24 Mary McEwan Dissertation Award

The call for nominations for the CFR's 2023-24 Mary McEwan Memorial Dissertation Award is now open.

Named in honour of Dr. Mary McEwan, a feminist psychiatrist, this annual award of $1,000.00 will be awarded to one PhD dissertation produced in the 2023-2024 academic year at York University in the area of feminist scholarship. An Awards Committee of faculty affiliated with the Centre will choose the winners.

If you have dissertations that were recommended for awards in 2023-24 (dissertations defended between September 1, 2023 and August 31st, 2024 are eligible), please consider putting them forward for this award. The submission deadline is November 30, 2024.

CRITERIA OF ELIGIBILITY

1. Must be a York graduate student who has successfully defended a dissertation during the 2023-24 academic year (September 1 2023-August 31st, 2024).
2. The nominee's dissertation must concern feminist theory and/or gender issues.
3. The examining committee for the dissertation must unanimously recommend it for an award.

PROCEDURE FOR NOMINATION

Each nomination must include:

1. The nomination checklist (see link below).
2. A copy of the dissertation.
3. A one-page statement (max.) from the nominee about the contribution the dissertation makes to feminist scholarship.
4. A letter of recommendation from the student's Supervisor commenting on the nominee's dissertation or thesis.
5. A statement from the Graduate Program Director noting that the nominee's dissertation was recommended as one that should be considered for a prize.
6. A copy of the external examiner's report.

PROCEDURE FOR SUBMISSION

Please complete the nomination checklist and submit your nomination package to Andi Schwartz, Coordinator of the Centre for Feminist Research, no later than November 30, 2024.

Submissions and questions can be made via email to cfr-coor@yorku.ca.

Date: October 18-20, 2024

Location: National Gallery of Canada

Single-day tickets and full conference passes are available on Eventbrite: cosmicnorthside2024.eventbrite.com

Ottawa, Ontario – September 2024 – From October 18-20, 2024, the bilingual event Cosmic Northside - Afrofuturistic Canadian Art Conference (ACAC) will be presented in the nation's capital. The event will honour the legacy of Afrofuturism in Canada with engaging presentations, live music, mixed reality exhibitions, and interactive activities that explore the intersections of artificial intelligence (AI), Sci-Fi fantasy, and Pan-Africanism. Attendees will experience a fusion of S.T.E.A.M (Science Technology Engineering Art Mathematics/Metaphysics) innovation and contemporary practices that envision a future rooted in land sovereignty, solidarity and equity.

The conference is presented by ASTROSANKOFA Arts Initiatives (ASAI), in partnership with the National Gallery of Canada. It is planned by Hors Pair Social and supported by the Black Speculative Arts Movement (BSAM) and the Ottawa Black Arts Kollektiv (OBAK). Funded by the Government of Canada's Department of Culture and Heritage and the Canada Council for the Arts, the ACAC will feature discussions, workshops, performances, digital art displays and an interactive robot that will create emphasis on intersectionality and the power of creative expression in shaping tomorrow's world.

Call for Papers: III Symposium Chair of African and Caribbean Studies (Afro)Multidimensional Resistance, Inequalities and Mobilities

Universidad de Costa Rica, San Pedro, Limón, Costa Rica – February 18-21, 2025

In celebration of a decade of dedicated work and in alignment with the conclusion of the International Decade for People of African Descent (2015-2024), as declared by the United Nations to promote public policies focused on 'Recognition, Justice, and Development' for people of African descent, the Program of African and Caribbean Studies at the University of Costa Rica is delighted to invite the international academic community to its Third International Symposium titled: "(Afro)Multidimensional Resistance, Inequalities, and Mobilities".

For its third edition in 2025, the symposium will focus on the following themes and invites participants to explore:

1. Critical Perspectives on Essentialisms and Methodological Nationalisms.
2. Global Migration Dynamics, Borderization, and Irregularity.
3. Diversity, Heterogeneities, and Citizenship from a Historical Perspective.
4. Social Mobility and Transcontinental Life Histories.
5. Forms of Exclusion and Invisibilization in Education, Texts, and School Narratives.
6. Representation, Elections, and Political Participation of Black and Afro-descendant Peoples.
7. Political Religious Movements, Conservatism, and Nationalisms.
8. Afro-descendant Rights in the Context of Economic Inequality and Technological Transformations.
9. Forced Migration and the Legacies of the Enslaved Era.
10. Gentrification, Tourism, and the Displacement of Afro-descendant Communities.
11. Territoriality, Property, and Sovereignty.
12. Justice, Dynamics of Ethnic-Racial Discrimination, and State Challenges.
13. Life Experiences and Resistance during the Enslaved Era.
14. Epistemology and Ethics in Afro-global Studies.

Those interested in presenting papers on the themes of this symposium are invited to submit a short CV, a title, and a 300-word abstract, including a brief reference to the sources used in their research. As scholars our task is to ensure that the knowledge produced is accurate, grounded in scientific research, and supported by available documentation.

Deadline: October 30, 2024

Proposals may be submitted in either Spanish or English to: catedraafricacaribe.vd@ucr.ac.cr.

Canada Graduate Scholarships — Master's program

Value: $12,500 for 12 months

Application Deadline: December 1, 2024

The CGS M program provides financial support to high-calibre scholars who are engaged in an eligible master's or, in some cases, doctoral program in Canada (refer to the Eligibility section for more information). This support allows these scholars to concentrate more fully on their studies in their chosen fields.

The CGS M program supports up to 3,000 students annually in all disciplines and is administered jointly by Canada's three granting agencies: the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada (NSERC), the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC). The selection process and post-award administration are carried out at the institutional level under the guidance of the three agencies. Students submit their application to the institution at which they intend to hold their award using the Research Portal.

CIHR-IPPH Trailblazer Award in Population and Public Health Research accepting nominations

Background

The CIHR-IPPH Trailblazer Award is designed to recognize the exemplary efforts and activities of exceptional Canadian researchers at different career stages who have created a highly influential body of work that has had a substantial impact on the field of population and public health research. The award also recognizes the leadership, mentorship, and innovative contributions of the recipients.

The CIHR-IPPH will consider applications for this award that are determined to be relevant to the Institute's mandate and in keeping with the Institute's values of:

- Coherent intersectoral action for population health improvements;
- Scalable population health solutions;
- Community engagement, co-design and knowledge sharing;
- Equitable population health impacts.

Applicants will also be expected to demonstrate how the concept of health equity is incorporated and integrated throughout the applicant's body of work.

Up to three awards will be given, valued at $2,500 each, for exceptional researchers at different career stages (early, mid and senior career scholars).

Please note this year the award is being administered by the Canadian Public Health Association (CPHA).

Please visit the CPHA website for more details on eligibility and selection criteria.

The Harriet Tubman Institute for Research on Africa and its Diasporas recognizes that many Indigenous Nations have longstanding relationships with the territories upon which York University campuses are located that precede the establishment of York University. York acknowledges its presence on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations. The area known as Tkaronto has been care taken by the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, and the Huron-Wendat, and is now home to many First Nation, Inuit and Métis communities. We acknowledge the current treaty holders, the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. This territory is subject of the Dish with One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, which is an agreement to peacefully share and care for the Great Lakes region.
